Conference & AGM

The Guild's AGM will be held on the Saturday morning and there will be no charge for anyone attending the AGM, but not staying to participate in any of the conference sessions.

The Venue is The Durrant House Hotel in Bideford, Devon. The hotel has a sauna, fitness room, sun shower and, for the hardy, an outdoor pool. Free Wi-Fi high speed internet is available throughout the Hotel. There are 125 bedrooms in a venue that is ideally placed for a relaxing holiday before or after the conference. There are also opportunities for non-family historian partners to enjoy the magnificent scenery, beaches and places of interest in the area. It is hoped to arrange group outings in the week prior to the conference, which may be especially appealing to those who are hoping to attend the FFHS AGM and Family History Fair in Plymouth the previous weekend. Likely destinations include the RHS gardens at Rosemoor, Lundy Island, Clovelly and Torrington 1646.

The Conference Programme is almost finalised and includes the following speakers, several of whom are new to the family history circuit:

SATURDAY

- Dr Alan Dodge — The Parish and its Officers in the 18th century;
- Caroline Verney, Exeter University — The Hartnolls of Easewell: servants and hidden relations
- Records of the College of Arms — speaker to be confirmed
- Simon Dell — Research Resources available through the Police Archives

SUNDAY

- Janet Few, Exeter University — Putting our Ancestors in their Places: reconstructing C19th Communities
- Dr Michael Braund, Canberra — Terra Australis Incognita — filling the family gaps using Australian one-name sources — Sponsored by the Halstead Trust
- David Hawkings — The Records of Transportation
- Final speaker - to be confirmed

There will be entertainment on the Friday night and a banquet on the Saturday evening.
